I envision the WEBEX to be strictly for fact-finding purposes. I know there's been much confusion on this issue. This is, in my mind, the most efficient, coherent, visually immediate, and painless way to get at the actual data.

BTW, I made the same offer to the Corps HQ b/c they are inquiring about overlapping info. I don't know if they would take me up on the offer but if they do, I can set up a joint one for a group small enough to meet everyone's comfort level.

If anyone's interested, let me know.
